

Joseph Bizzell is a dedicated professional with a lifelong commitment to service. He brings high standards, steady leadership, and a disciplined approach to every role he takes on. His background includes active duty and reserve service in the United States Navy, more than 26 years as a business owner, and his ongoing work as a Valencia County Commissioner. He is deeply invested in strengthening rural communities, sponsoring organizations such as 4H, FFA, and other programs that support children and senior citizens. His leadership has also been instrumental in advancing major community initiatives, including the new hospital project in Los Lunas and negotiating key terms to ensure its success. A devoted husband and father, he values family as the foundation of his work ethic and community focus. Known for his integrity, reliability, and commitment to long-term impact, he thrives in roles that require clarity, accountability, and purpose-driven leadership.
