

Teresa Barncastle just concluded her fourth and final year as the President of the New Mexico Federation of Republican Women. Teresa has dedicated thousands of hours educating members and the public on Republican ideals and trying to get Republican candidates elected. She has been a member of the State Central Committee, Executive Committee and a Delegate to the 2024 Republican National Convention.

Teresa is the retired Emergency Manager for Roswell/Chaves County and was the first nationally certified Emergency Manager in New Mexico. She was trained in Incident Command, Emergency Planning, and Response and Recovery. She responded to NM flooding, snow storms and fires, and was deployed to assist with hurricanes Katrina and Rita.

Teresa resides in Roswell with her husband Pat and their 3 dogs and 1 cat. Together they have 5 wonderful children (who each have the best spouses), 12 grandchildren, and one great grand-daughter. In her spare time, she crafts and enjoys fishing. She has been known to conduct a zoom from her boat on a lake.
